Content Creator For: Greg Guan

- Greg added the separate linked pages for all of his tabs in his first build, which was good!
- The header is flex but Greg doesn't want it to be Flex, so I suggested max-width and max-height so it doesn't grow when the page shrinks, but I'm not quite sure if that is the correct fix.
- Greg wants to shrink down the letters in the header as well.
- Greg is working from desktop to mobile in terms of responsiveness, but I suggested the opposite since I did desktop to mobile for the last project and it was a little hard.
- The main image is max width but isn't responsive, and we weren't sure how to fix that, so I suggested the google doc we could ask questions on
- He said he needs more images in general,so I suggested korizon esports for high quality photos so he wouldn't have to get stuff from Google
- The Career page will be the longest page, so figuring out the organization of the information will be the most important and it will need the most pictures
- Greg had the Fandom page for information but it was inaccurate, the wikipedia page was right
- Faker won the world championships in 2013, 2015, and 2016, and finished 2nd place in worlds in 2017, and 2022. So those years might be most important to highlight.
- Greg wants a dropdown feature for the career page, in place of the button's dropdown menu which might be hard to do
- Added bar at the end to signify end of the page, he wants to put in some logos or links to companies related to Faker to make it more realistic
- He wants an introduction page but isnt sure what to put there. I suggested a montage video, and he wanted some more text for the intro so I suggested quotes

A Couple of Quotes for Greg:
- "I have immense pride at being the best at what I do. With that pride comes great responsibility. And from that responsibility, it motivates me to work even harder." - Faker
- "Best player of all time" - PSG Talon
- "We have taken Faker's excellence for granted at this point, but to fight that hard at Worlds semis after 8 years as a professional while having a relevant role as a League of Legends player is truly mesmerizing. Best of all time. The Unkillable Demon King." -Fernando Callete
- "Faker is League of Legends." - Caedrel
- "Faker Faker Record Breaker: The first player to hit 2,000 career kills in the LCK!" -League of Legends Esports
- "Faker is still my MVP for the entire tournament. Unreal carry performance during Worlds from the greatest player ever." - Deficio
